

Opening Doors and Cutting Ribbons

A Fresh Start with Arla Foods Canada in Vaughan

On November 6, ENCOR had the privilege of attending the grand opening of Arla Foods Canada's state-of-the-art cold distribution centre in Vaughan, Ontario.

Standing at 110,000 sq.ft, this facility marks a significant step forward in delivering high-quality, refrigerated products to Canadians, thanks to Arla's commitment to innovation.

We'd like to thank Eric Elmhirst, Ron Murphy, and Moses Realejo at Arla Foods for entrusting us with this meaningful project. This off-market opportunity has brought advanced refrigerated and cold storage solutions to the market at competitive rates, providing value to the Vaughan community.

Special appreciation goes out to our partners, Marko Dzeletovich and Brian Rosabal from Coldbox Builders, Sam Balsamo, Vivian Voo, and Gino Bellisario from Condor Properties Ltd., Scott Caverley and Andrew Denuzzo, CFA from Fengate Asset Management, and to everyone who contributed to this success.

We were also honoured to celebrate this milestone with distinguished leaders who joined us in supporting Arla's new chapter:

- Honourable Victor Fedeli
- Honourable Rob Flack
- Honourable Stephen Lecce
- MPP Thornhill Laura Smith
- Mayor Steven Del Duca of Vaughan
- Chair Wayne Emmerson of York Region
- Councillors Mario Ferri, Gino Rosati, Mario G. Racco, Marilyn Iafrate, Adriano Volpentesta, and Chris Ainsworth

Congratulations to Arla Foods Canada on this achievement. Here's to new beginnings!
